

EXODUS 3:2-5, 13-15

And the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he looked, and, behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed.

And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt. And when the Lord saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, "Here am I." And He said, Draw nigh hither: put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.

And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers has sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, What is His name? What shall I say unto them?

And God said unto Moses, Ehyeh asher ehyeh, meaning; "I AM that I AM, or 'TO BE', that is forever!" And He said; "Thus or this shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you." (Exodus 3:14),

(In Paleo Hebrew I AM is י ה or Y H)

Note:

Therefore God's Name which is a proper noun has only 2 consonants in it and cannot be Yehovah or Yahweh which have 4 consonants!

We write to support this statement with the following quotation by Moses Maimonides, the Jewish teacher that is quoted by all Rabbi's from the eleven hundreds and even today. He commented on י ה that is Y H by saying;

Quote! 'This involves deliberation on the meaning of י ה that is, Y H His Name.

Before any observance, one should say, [I am doing this] to unite the Name of the Blessed One and His Divine Presence, with reverence and love, love and reverence, in the Name of all Yisra'el.

God taught Moses how to teach the Israelites, and how to establish amongst them the belief in the existence of Himself, namely, by saying Ehyeh asher Ehyeh. It is a name derived from the verb ha yah in the sense of "existing or I AM." For the verb ha yah denotes "to be" and in Hebrew no difference is made between the verbs "to be" and "I AM." The principal point in this phrase is that the same word which denotes or means "I AM" is repeated as a statement of "authority" in Deuteronomy 6:4.

The word asher, "that," corresponds to the Arabic, "illadi and illati," and is an incomplete noun that must be completed by another noun; it may be considered as the subject of the predicate which follows.

The first noun which is to be described is Ehyeh; the second, by which the first is described, is likewise Ehyeh, the identical word, as if to show that the object which is to be described and the attribute by which it is described are in this case necessarily identical.

This is, therefore, the expression of the idea that God exists, but not in the ordinary sense of the term; or, in other words, He is "The Existing Being Which Is The Existing Being," that is to say, The Being Whose Existence Is Absolute. The proof which He was to give consisted in demonstrating that there is a Being of absolute existence, that has never been and never will be without existence.'
